ABSTRACT

This budget summary document provides detailed listings of the allocation of funds for the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction for 1992-1993. The first sections include the state superintendent's budget recommendations, a description of the fiscal year in review, a mission statement, organizational goals, and legislative initiatives for 1992. Following sections contain the anticipated and appropriated revenue for the general fund, appropriated budgets by agency for state-administered federal programs, and the state public school fund, the critical school facility needs fund, trust funds, and intragovernmental service funds. Appendices contain a 1992 legislative summary, legislative special provisions, federal programs, historical and salary data, and a glossary. (LMI)

State Superintendent's Budget Message

To the Citizens of North Carolina:

Positive changes are taking place in the public schools of our state. More students are staying in school. The courses these students take are based on content that has been revised to fit the times, and our new testing program will measure how well students have learned. Teachers and principals, those closest to the heart of the education process, are gaining more and more authority to make the decisions they know are best for the students in their charge. Parents, business leaders and community members are being invited into the schools to help set goals, to work with students and to be more a part of the public schools.

The Basic Education Program is having an impact. Parents, teachers, principals and administrators from across this state are supportive of the positive changes taking place thanks to this education improvement initiative. Legislators have gotten this message and are responding by restoring some funds and putting new dollars into teaching positions. At this point, the BEP funding stands at around 63 percent of the total needed. There is every indication that legislators intend to fulfill their commitment to schools through this program.

Citizens can now determine just where their school system rates through an accountability program that includes a statewide report card, reporting of SAT and other test scores and the status of goals.

Many initiatives have been started, namely the 20-Point Plan, Targets for 2000, a quality assurance program and parent involvement. And, good programs including dropout prevention, alcohol and drug abuse prevention and early childhood efforts have been expanded. All these things have been done with a more streamlined state Department of Public Instruction which has made service to local school systems its primary goal. The close to 20 percent reduction in staff takes the Department out of the Top 10 of the largest agencies in state government. The savings to the state which resulted from the cut in bureaucracy and the focusing of resources in areas of greatest need have made the restructuring of the Department well worth the effort.

The Budget Summary document provides detailed listings of the allocation of funds for the Department. Of the $3.3 billion state funding for public schools, approximately $40 million is used for state administration. As a businessman, it is my goal to ensure that these funds are spent in areas where they will have the greatest impact on individual schools, while at the same time, ensuring accountability. I take this part of my job very seriously. Also, as a taxpayer, I want to see that this state's resources are put to the best possible use. This document illustrates that what is important in education is what happens in the local school with children. That will continue to be our focus.

Fiscal Year in Review

We have completed one of the most fiscally challenging periods of this century. Despite all the trials, we have persevered. The integrity of the basic school program has not been impaired despite many attacks against it. This is due in part to the leadership, patience, cooperation, and unwavering commitment of the many personnel in the units and in the agency.

For the first time since July 1988, we began the school year without declining revenue collections, hiring freezes, budget cuts, a negative reserve or a recommendation to have a contingency fund.

Our budget problems began in late 1989. Revenue collections fell further and further behind budget. We began the year with about a $20 million shortfall in the public school fund due to a reduction of carryover for the eleventh and twelfth month installments. By early 1990, state agencies were given specific targets for year-end reversions. In April, the Governor officially requested that the public schools revert $40 million. Each local education agency (LEA) was requested to identify reductions of $36 per average daily membership (ADM). In May, the Office of State Budget revised its projected statewide shortfall for the year to $400 million. We eliminated carryover of unexpended summer school, staff development, and Willie M. funds; reduced the required LEA reduction to $20 million; and continued the freeze on positions imposed statewide earlier in the year.

The 1990 Session of the General Assembly developed a new budget balancing device called the Negative Reserve. For the schools, this was $45 million. Each LEA was to submit a budget reduction "request" of $41.38 per ADM. Most of the reductions came from new program enhancement teaching positions, instructional support, and summer school. The controls on hiring continued. Construction funds were withheld and only half of the eleventh and twelfth month installment obligation was carried forward to fiscal year 1992.

The 1991 General Assembly was faced with a projected shortfall of $1.2 billion for fiscal year 1992. Initial reductions were identified in the spring, with final action taken in July. The Public School Fund was reduced by more than $162 million; total cuts to the Department of Public Education were $187 million. Major reductions were in energy [$18 million - $36 million over two years], summer school [$12.5 million], equipment-supplies and materials-textbooks [$10 million], drivers education [$5.7 million], school administrators [$7.9 million], and instructional support [$5 million]. School bus replacement funds were eliminated for one year.

By spring of this year the revenue collections were acceptable and the 1992 General Assembly provided additional funding for enhancement teachers [$20.7 million] completing this portion of the Basic Education Plan (BEP). They restored equipment, supplies, and textbook funds and added approximately $3 million each for: instructional support positions, low wealth counties, small counties, textbooks, outcome based education, and preschool handicapped and $15 million for school buses. Teachers received an average two percent salary increase coupled with annual longevity after ten years of state service.

The prospects for the future must be viewed cautiously. Certainly the bountiful days of the mid-80's are over - no more program increases of $50-$100 million are foreseeable. Revenue growth for the nineties is expected to be six to eight percent. With accelerating costs in Medicaid and corrections plus the projected ADM increase in schools (costing $45-$65 million each year) program increases in the $3 to $10 million range will be a realistic expectation.

All this serves to emphasize the premium that must be placed on better utilizing current resources and finding innovative approaches to improving the effectiveness and efficiency of current instructional and administrative practices.

1992 Legislative Session

Basic Education Program

Legislators provided over $23 million for the Basic Education program in 1992. Approximately $20.7 million will fund some 700 new teaching positions in local school systems. Providing these new teachers will complete the Program Enhancement category under the BEP, although these positions can be used for areas of need other than program enhancement. Thanks to another $3 million for the BEP, instructional support positions that were cut last year in the tight economic times were restored. Funds will be used for counselors, nurses, psychologists and other key positions, especially in school systems identified as low performing.

BEP positions are making a difference in North Carolina schools. Over 7,500 teachers or 16 percent of all teachers in the public schools have been funded with BEP dollars. Most of the other dollars are being spent on critical needs, including help for at-risk students through dropout prevention programs and summer school, clerical assistants, and other support positions. Smaller class sizes, new course offerings, additional supplies and equipment, increased standards for facilities and expanded programs are some of the other benefits of the BEP.

Salaries

Another accomplishment of the 1992 legislative session is the funding of the third and final year of implementation of the teacher salary schedule. While there was not enough money to provide the 6 percent increase called for in the new schedule, the average 2 percent increase will keep this schedule on track. Like other state employees, all other school employees, except bus drivers, will receive a $43.50 per month salary increase. Bus drivers will receive a 2 percent salary hike.

Accountability

The school improvement process was revised this year when legislators gave teachers and parents more control over the development of local plans. Senate Bill 2, the School Improvement and Accountability Act, adopted by the General Assembly in 1989, was designed to improve student performance by providing flexibility and accountability. A major component of this Act is the Performance-Based Accountability Program. Legislators specified that the accountability program is guided by the following mission: to challenge each child with high expectations to learn, to achieve, and to fulfill his or her potential. Local systems must develop a new three-year school improvement plan to be put into place for the 1993-94 school year. This plan requires that those closest to students be involved in the plans and decisions that will improve student achievement. Legislators provided $29.5 million to be used for differentiated pay for certified staff members under the Performance-Based Accountability Plan.

Other Highlights

Textbooks—The need for more money for textbooks got a boost when legislators approved increasing the funding for textbooks from $22 to $25 per student in grades 1-12. Legislators also put into place a process that should ensure more funds for textbooks in the future.

Testing—Some $6 million will be used for the new End-of-Course/End-of-Grade testing program to align the state's tests with the revised curriculum and the thinking and practical skills students need to succeed. An additional $1.7 million will be used for test scoring equipment in local school systems. Also in the testing area, legislators approved permanent funding for the administration of the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test to students in North Carolina.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Agency Receipts

Anticipated revenue from sources other than state appropriations.

Average Daily Membership

The total number of school days within a given term or school year that a student's name is on the current roll of a class, regardless of the student being present or absent, in the "number of days in membership" for that student. The sum of the "number of days in membership" for all students divided by the number of school days in the term yields average daily membership (ADM). The final ADM is the total days in membership for all students over the school year divided by the number of days school was in session.

Budget

A plan of financial operations embodying an estimate of proposed expenditures for a given period or purpose and the proposed means of funding.

Budget Purpose or Program

A group of expenditure and receipt line items for support of a specific budgeted activity within an entity.

Budgetary Control

The management of the financial affairs of the department in accordance with the appropriate laws, regulations, and procedures of the various governing bodies.

Career Development

An intensive in-service and evaluation pilot program which provides a "career ladder" for teachers leading to salaries equivalent to the mid-management pay range.

Carry Forward

Funds appropriated but unspent in the first fiscal year which by authorized budget revision are brought forward for expenditure in succeeding fiscal year.

Children's Trust Fund

The Children's Trust fund provides funding for the prevention of child abuse and neglect.

Continuation Budget

The continuation budget refers to that portion of the budget which maintains the existing level of services. May contain increases for inflationary cost increases, statutory increases, i.e., social security; operation of newly completed facilities; or annualization of costs for programs funded for only part of a year.

Contracted Services

Services performed by outside agencies such as legal and audit services, consultant services, and contracted repairs of equipment.

Employee Benefits

Amounts charged to the department on behalf of its employees; these amounts are in addition to the gross salary. Employee benefits, while not paid directly to employees, nevertheless, are part of the personnel costs. Employee benefit costs are allocated to programs, activities, or functions in proportion to full-time salary costs. Employee benefits include: social security, retirement (pensions), hospitalization insurance, workers' compensation, and unemployment compensation.

Expansion Budget

Approved funds to finance improvements or expansions in existing programs, to establish new programs, to provide for salary increases, and to provide for increases in enrollments, caseloads and institutional populations.

Fiscal Year

The twelve month period of time which the annual budget applies. North Carolina, by law, must observe a fiscal year that begins on July 1 and ends on June 30.

General Fund

These monies are appropriated for both the operation of state agencies and various other entities such as the State Public School Fund.

Grant

A contribution or gift of cash or other assets from another entity to be used or expended for a specific purpose, activity, or facility. Capital grants are restricted by the grantor for the acquisition and/or construction of fixed (capital) assets. All other grants are operating grants.

Indirect Costs

Funds derived from federal grants to which an institution is a party, to cover overhead costs incurred in the administration of the grant.

Legislative Salary Increase

Funds legislated by the General Assembly which provide across-the-board salary increases for state employees on an annualized basis. The 1992 Session of the General Assembly approved a flat-rate increase of $43.50 per month for all state employees.

Public School Insurance

Public School Insurance provides fire, lightening and extended coverage insurance for local education agencies (LEA) buildings.

Reserves and Transfers

The purpose of Reserves and Transfers is to provide an area of accountability for funds allotted to the Department of Public Instruction which are reserved for specific future purposes and which will be transferred to the agency's various operating units according to formulas to be in place at the time of transfer.

Rodman Scholarship

The Rodman Scholarship fund was established to provide scholarship gifts to descendants of Colonel William G. Rodman and interest-bearing scholarship loans to other students.

State Appropriations

Funds made available from various state revenues.

State Literary Loan

The State Literary Loan fund provides low interest construction loans to LEAs.

State Public School Fund

Appropriations for expenditures to support the state's public school system. These funds are allotted to the LEAs by various statewide allotment formulas.

Teaching Fellows

The Teaching Fellows program provides scholarship loan funding for college students pursuing teaching careers.

Unemployment Reserve

The Unemployment Reserve fund was established to collect a portion of LEA federal funds designated to pay unemployment claims by LEA federally paid employees.
